

MYTHOS

CONSOLE

Mythology meets design in Mythos console, a scenographic piece of furniture whose main protagonist is the most famous among the winged horses, Pegasus, the heraldic figure symbol of the Etro brand. Facing each other in a dynamic position and resting on a base that recalls the shape of an arrow, the two mythological animals support the glass top through the play of their wings, visible through the transparency. The brass details, of the symbol that recalls the initial letter of the Etro brand, embellish and illuminate the whole giving the table an eclectic charm, in perfect Etro Home Interiors' style.

Base in matte dark wengè dyed wood with details in polished brass. Pegasus in black lacquered finishing. Top in extraclear bevelled glass.

Other finishings available upon request from Etro Home Interiors collection.
